According to your 2009-2010 FAFSA, you stated that your parent (dependent student) or you/your spouse (independent student) are considered a dislocated worker or homemaker. FAFSA Question #85 (parent), and #103 (student/spouse).

The Department of Education defines a Dislocated Worker or Displaced Homemaker as:

- Receiving unemployment benefits due to being laid off or losing a job and is unlikely to return to a previous occupation.
- Laid off or received a lay-off notice from a job.
- Was self-employed but is now unemployed due to economic conditions or natural disaster.
- Displaced homemaker is generally a person who previously provided unpaid services to the family (e.g., a stay-at-home mom or dad), is no longer supported by the husband or wife, and unemployed or underemployed, and is having trouble finding or upgrading employment.

Please note: If a person quits work, generally he or she is not considered a dislocated worker even if, for example, the person is receiving unemployment benefits.
